Bitter Pill for the 'Master Race'

German prisoners of war are pictured at a prison camp near Haarlem, Northern Holland, saluting a Jewish officer as he emerges from one of the buildings in the camp. A large number of the erstwhile "Master Race" of Germany are in camp which, ironically for them, has been placed in the charge of a brigade of Jewish troops. All the prisoners do a full day's work, which includes everything from cleaning latrines to rough agricultural labor.

British Ships, Planes Rushed To Scene of Commander's Murder

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—All available British warships and aircraft were reported rushing today to Soerabaya—the Java trouble spot where Brig. A. W. F. Mallaby was killed while arranging a truce with Indonesian Nationalists.

Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in the Netherlands East Indies, notified the Nationalists in an ultimatum that further unprovoked native attacks on British troops would be crushed with overpowering force.

'Republic' Cabinet To Meet Governor

President Soekarno of the "Indonesian Republic" announced his cabinet would hold informal talks tonight with Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting Governor-General of the East Indies, at Gen. Christison's residence. The Nationalists are seeking freedom from Dutch colonial control of the rich islands.

Gen. Christison said Brig. Mallaby, commander of the 49th Indian Brigade, was murdered at Soerabaya Tuesday night "while arranging details of a cease fire order in the company of Indonesian leaders."

The British general summoned Soekarno, President of the "Indonesian Republic," to his headquarters, acquainted him with the facts of Brig. Mallaby's death and read his warning. Earlier, asked whether he held Soekarno responsible for the killing, he replied:

Civil Govt. In Germany Under Allies Next June

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today set next June 1 as a goal for transferring the German government from military to civilian hands.

The President did so in expressing his approval of a letter from Gen. Eisenhower advocating such a course through agreement with the other three powers participating in the occupation of Germany.

Gen. Eisenhower, commanding general of the U.S. occupation forces, recommended—and the President agreed—that military occupation, as distinguished from military government, should be continued as long as it is necessary.

The President also said, in reply to a question, that the U.S. administration favored the quickest possible transfer of government in Japan from a military to a civilian status.

Gen. Eisenhower's letter recalled that the U.S. commander and the President had agreed at Frankfurt on the desirability of facilitating the shift of German government to civilian authorities.

Mr. Truman said the United States War and State Departments both believed a civilian administrator should replace military men from each of the Allied occupying governments, Great Britain, Russia, France and the U.S.

Gen. Eisenhower said he thought it was important, from his own viewpoint, to make the change-over at the earliest possible date.

REGRETS DELAYS
FRANKFURT (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower, expressing disappointment over delays in disposing of important problems in Germany, said today it was "evident that only by the spirit of joint accommodation of views can there be any real success for the Allies' control authority."

In his third monthly report as Military Governor of the United States Zone of occupied Germany, Gen. Eisenhower said delays during September were caused by the necessity for unanimous four-power consent to all measures under consideration.

Strike Threatens

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill White, president of the Vancouver local of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union (C.C.L.), announced today a strike is threatened among all workers in the South Burrard shipyard over the dismissal of labor co-ordinator Jack Cunningham.

"The yard will be closed down within a couple of months and this is the very time we need a co-ordinator," Mr. White said.

Chinese Communists Threatening Tatung, Vital Railroad Centre

CHUNGKING (AP)—Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of Shansi Province, charged today that 100,000 Communist troops are attacking the important rail junction city of Tatung in northern Shansi.

Yen said he was "70 per cent certain" that the Communists are being directed by Gen. Chu Teh, Communist commander-in-chief.

The Shansi governor claimed he had received reports while visiting here that "unidentified aircraft have been landing behind the Communist lines," but he refused to elaborate on the subject.

He said the attacking forces were using more than 40 field guns and 15 to 20 tanks. "The tanks, according to reports I've received, were manned by men dressed like Outer Mongolians."

Tatung is at the junction of the Peiping-Suiyuan and the Puchow railroads.

Agnew C.O. At Naden; Donald Takes Givenchy

Capt. V. S. Godfrey, R.C.N., naval chief of staff, prepares for the official transfer Thursday of the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command from Vancouver back to Esquimalt.

Appointment of Capt. R. I. Agnew, O.B.E., R.C.N., as C.O. H.M.C.S. Naden, and Capt. C. D. Donald, R.C.N., as captain of H.M.C.S. Dockyard and C.O. H.M.C.S. Givenchy, was announced today by Capt. V. S. Godfrey, R.C.N., chief of staff of navy Pacific Command, which will be officially transferred to Esquimalt Thursday.

Capt. Agnew commanded H.M.C.S. Naden at the beginning of the war, later commanded H.M.C.S. Stadacona, Halifax, and then was on loan to the Royal Navy. He succeeds Cmdr. T. G. Fuller, D.S.C. and two Bars at Naden.

Capt. Donald has been N.O.I.C. at Esquimalt since July 31, but with the assumption of command here by Rear-Admiral Victor G. Brodeur, N.O.I.C., will be absorbed by the officer commanding Pacific Command.

Capt. Godfrey joined the naval college at Halifax in 1913 when he was 14 years old. He served during World War I as an officer aboard submarines and the British battleship H.M.S. Barham.

In peacetime, he saw various service aboard ships of both the Royal Canadian Navy and the Royal Navy. In 1933 he took command of the destroyer H.M.C.S. Champlain and held that command for two years. He served as executive officer at H.M.C.S. Naden during 1935 and 1936, later specializing in ordnance work and taking charge of the naval magazine at Halifax.

From 1941 to 1943 he was commander of H.M.C.S. Prince David, after which he spent eight months in Washington as chief of staff to Admiral Brodeur.

In January, 1944, Capt. Godfrey took command of H.M.C.S. Prince Henry, commanding her when she took part in the invasion of France on D-Day, and carried the Canadian Scottish to the Normandy beachheads. He also took part in the liberation of Greece and evacuation of refugees there.

Maj.-Gen. Foster To Head Court Opening Nov. 28

LONDON (CP)—Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, former commander of the German 12th S.S. Hitler Youth Division, was indicted today at Aurich, Germany, for war crimes involving the shooting by members of his division of 48 Canadian prisoners of war in the Caen area during the Battle of Normandy.

His trial will be heard by a special Canadian military court headed by Maj.-Gen. Harry Foster, former commander of the 1st Canadian Division, and convened by Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, commander of the Canadian occupation force in Germany.

The trial is due to start Nov. 28 in the naval barracks at Aurich, near Emden, in the Canadian occupation force area of northwest Germany, and is expected to last 10 days or two weeks.

This will be the first Canadian war crimes trial and may be followed later by others, developing from additional evidence against the members of this infamous division which was the chief opponent of the 3rd Canadian Division during the early Normandy fighting.

Believe 144 Slain By Infamous Group

It is estimated by Canadian war crimes investigators that the 12th S.S. Division killed at least 144 Canadian prisoners of war in 33 different incidents in Normandy—the worst series of crimes committed by any German formation in Europe.

Meyer was captured by U.S. troops south of Leige, Belgium, in September, 1944, and turned over to British authorities, who in turn handed him to the Canadian army for trial.

He was flown to Aurich this morning and appeared before Lt.-Col. R. P. Clark of Vancouver, commanding officer of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles, the occupation force battalion stationed at Aurich, who remanded him.

At this appearance Meyer was given a list of seven charges, and also an abstract of the evidence taken by the prosecution from various witnesses. On the basis of these documents, the accused will prepare his defence during the four-week period allotted to him before the trial opens.

(In the House of Commons at Ottawa, this afternoon, Defence Minister Abbott said Col. Peter Wright of York Mills, Ont., had been detailed to act as Gen. Meyer's defence counsel.

Chief Prosecutor is Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald of Windsor, Ont., and Edmonton, and among the witnesses he will call are some soldiers and demobilized servicemen brought from Canada.

The charges allege that Meyer was responsible for 11 different atrocities in which Canadian prisoners of war were killed. The grimest were at Buron and Authle, villages four miles northwest of Caen, where it is alleged that on or about June 7, 1944, the day after the Normandy landings, 23 Canadian prisoners were killed in cold blood in eight incidents.

The charges also state that Meyer ordered his troops to shoot seven other Canadian prisoners at his headquarters at the ancient Abbey of Ardenne, one mile east of Buron and Authle, and three miles northwest of Caen.

This order was carried out and the seven prisoners were killed, the charges allege.

A third charge states that Meyer was responsible for the death of an additional 11 Canadian prisoners at the Abbey on or about June 8.

Told Troops To Give No Quarter

(In addition, Meyer is charged with telling his troops during training in France and Belgium to deny quarter to Allied soldiers.

The 26th Regiment of the 12th S.S. fought the Winnipeg, Regina Rifles and the Canadian Scottish, of Victoria, around Pave and Bretteville, and its commander, Col. Wilhelm Mohrke, will face a trial similar to that of Meyer if he can be located. It is thought he was in Berlin with Hitler when the Russians were storming through the city, and he may now be in Russian hands.

Truman Won't Set Percentage Of Pay Increase Urged On Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, who Tuesday night advocated "reasonable" wage increases without major price changes, declined today to suggest a percentage by which he thought wages in the U.S. should be boosted.

He told a press conference the amount of increases would have to be determined in each individual case.

That is why it has to be done by collective bargaining, the President said to reporters questioning him about his radio address of Tuesday night, in which he laid down his postwar wage-price policy, which calls for two things:

1. Approval of reasonable wage increases to avoid deflation and unemployment.
2. A hold-the-line attitude on prices, with increases to be allowed only where necessary.

The President told Labor Tuesday night it can't have the same take-home pay it got during the war. There will have to be a drop, he said, and he warned workers against making too great demands on employers.

TO SHARE PROFITS

But he said industry generally could stand some pay increases out of profits.

1. Where the percentage increase in average straight time hourly earnings since January, 1941, has not equalled the increase in the cost of living between January, 1941, and September, 1945.

2. Where necessary to correct inequalities in wage rates among plants in the same industry or locality, "with due regard to normal competitive relationships."

3. Where necessary to insure full production in an industry designated by the stabilization director as essential to reconstruction "and in which existing wage rates or salaries are inadequate to the recruitment of needed manpower."

The latter classification, some persons thought, might be made applicable to the steel and some building industries.

INDUSTRY SILENT

The President's proposals met with the following early reaction: C. E. Wilson, Detroit, president of General Motors: "No comment."

R. J. Thomas, Detroit, president U.A.W.-C.O.: "He removed the last excuse of the automobile companies to refuse our proposed 30 per cent payroll increase when he offered relief on prices after a reasonable period of production at ceiling levels if a fair profit cannot be earned."

National Association of Manufacturers, New York: "No comment."

Paul Shoup, president, Los Angeles Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association: "Factual and individual application is necessary to make adequate comment on the President's wage and price suggestions."

Victory Loan Maintains Pace; $117,000,000 Ahead of Eighth

OTTAWA (CP)—Boosted by almost phenomenal sales Tuesday, the national total in Canada's Ninth Victory Loan was nearing the $700,000,000 mark today and maintaining a pace more than $117,000,000 ahead of the 8th Loan drive last spring, the National War Finance Committee reported.

Total sales Tuesday were $120,348,300, compared with $77,039,000 for the corresponding day of the last loan. And the figure sent the national total to $694,967,300 in the Dominion's biggest loan drive for a minimum of $1,500,000,000 in three weeks. The national total at the same point of the 8th loan was $577,041,150.

Sales to individuals and payroll purchasers were still well ahead of schedule totaling $54,820,050 Tuesday against $40,170,200 for the same day last spring. This brought the total cumulative sales to individuals and payroll purchasers to $348,691,950 compared with $293,602,550.

The big factor in Tuesday's total was a $30,000,000 investment by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Ottawa.

B.C. RISES TO 62%

The public total in B.C.-Yukon to Tuesday noon was $44,129,650 for 62 per cent of quota. Armed forces standings were Army 247 per cent, Navy 267, Air Force 172.

Indians are high men on the Victory Loan totem pole at Alert Bay, B.C. Out of the first 35 applications received, 21 were from Indians and investments to date from the Indians stand at $12,650 from 45 individual applications.

Total over-all sales of victory bonds in Alberta at the end of the campaign's 8th day continued about $1,500,000 behind sales at the same period last year. A total of 50,270 Albertans had purchased $18,782,700, compared with 68,125 applications for $20,358,200 during the same period of the last loan. Eighty-three special applications brought in $3,446,450. Total over-all sales, exclusive of armed forces were $22,229,150 and the armed forces bought $1,730,550.

CALGARY LEADS EDMONTON
Luscar, in northern Alberta, Tuesday night became the sixth Alberta unit to reach its objective. Calgary almost $700,000 ahead of the 8th loan's corresponding period, had 53 per cent of its total objective, or $4,077,300, and still had a million-dollar lead on Edmonton, now standing at $3,074,450 or 40 per cent of quota. Other Alberta figures were Lethbridge, 108 per cent; Red Deer, 67; Medicine Hat, 49; Wetaskiwin, 30; Drumheller, 25 per cent.

Saskatchewan headquarters of the National War Finance Committee reported cumulative sales amounted to $15,984,050. Objective for the province is $44,900,000.

Ontario loan headquarters announced that $287,787,150 had been subscribed up to an including Tuesday when the total towards the objective of $679,345,600 was $42,838,000.

les in some respects across Canada. Maritime youngsters will disguise themselves and challenge neighbors to recognize them. As a forfeit for tactical failure to identify the revellers, householders will yield candy, apples and nuts. Quebec children will follow a similar procedure. Ontario children, slightly more aggressive in their demands, gather to chant outside stores and homes until tribute is forthcoming. The apple is usually king of the prairie Halloween, although it may give place to other treats this year. In B.C. children have firecrackers, which seldom appear in cities of eastern Canada on Halloween.

Full Police Force Will Watch Revelry

All available members of the city police force will be on duty tonight guarding against vandalism during the first peacetime celebration of Halloween in six years.

Because of the shortage of fireworks, a quieter Halloween than in previous years is hoped for. Police Chief J. A. McEillean has asked parents to help keep their youngsters from roaming the streets and doing damage to property.

"There will be plenty of fun at the school entertainments and other functions planned for the children," he said.

To ensure that the entertainments are not disturbed by children outside the schools, police will be posted at Victoria West, Oaklands, George Jay, Central Junior High, South Park, Quadra, Burnside and Margaret Jenkins Schools.

Other cities in Canada taking special police precautions to ensure an orderly celebration are Vancouver, Regina, Hamilton and Montreal. Elsewhere, police chiefs are so confident of the continuance of the quiet revelry of wartime that no extra men will be assigned to duty.

Adding to Victoria's prospects of an orderly Halloween, the rain gave indications of continuing this evening, although the forecast for tomorrow said only "partly cloudy."

Proved Worth $3,000

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Joe Haddock, manager of a tire firm in adjoining Burnaby municipality, told Tuesday of winning a home at St. Paul, Alta., said to be worth $8,000.

He bought the ticket in September, 1944, and after being informed it was the winner he telegraphed to St. Paul, 137 miles north of Edmonton, asking for offers for the home. He said the best he could get was $3,000 but finally sold it for $3,500.

He decided to investigate and "when I arrived I found everything was on the up-and-up, but the businessman who had attempted to finance a boys' town by means of the house raffle had erred in estimating the number of tickets that could be sold."

Witness At Yamashita Trial Of Murder of 100 Civilians

MANILA (AP)—Witnesses at the war criminal trial of Lt.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita continued through the third day today their recital of atrocities, slaughter and rape committed by troops commanded by the one-time "Tiger of Malaya" and supreme Japanese commander in the Philippines.

Through the repetition of similar instances of bestial brutality in the trial without precedent—Yamashita is charged with responsibility for crimes he never committed and denies having ordered—the prosecution hopes to establish that the acts of the Japanese followed a set pattern in such numbers that the commander should have known of the acts—and did nothing to stop them.

Highlight of the third day's recitation was the testimony of Mrs. Rosaria Yulo, who told of being in a home last Feb. 7, where more than 100 civilian men and women and children were shot and burned. Mrs. Yulo's daughter, son and husband were among those slain.

The killing and burning of 22 patients, all civilians, at the National Psychopathic Hospital on the outskirts of Manila was described by a series of witnesses.

Lucio Mariano, hospital administrative officer, said five or six Japanese officers rushed into the buildings and started shooting. They ordered everyone outside. One woman screamed and was felled with a blow and then kicked.

Another patient was given the "judo" treatment—picked up and hurled headfirst on the floor.

A medical officer, Toribio J. J. J., testified he had seen patients hurled over a cliff behind the hospital and then set afire.

The killing of more than 40 persons at La Salle College was described by white-robed Father Francis Joseph Cosgrave. He said a dying man was attacked even as the priest was granting him absolution.

Father Cosgrave, himself bayoneted and left for dead, related that one priest was slain while he prayed and his body fell across the communion rail with his hand still outstretched to the altar.

Use of N.R.M.A. Troops for Duty In Germany Debated In Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The contentious question of what use should be made of troops originally conscripted for service only in Canada and adjacent territories was revived in the Commons Tuesday along with charges that some members of the forces have been discriminated against for political or racial reasons.

As debate on the army estimates continued, discussions centred on the Canadian army in Germany and brought out requests that the N.R.M.A. troops be used to relieve general service personnel in the occupation force of 20,000.

In reply to requests, made by Lt. James Sinclair, Lib. North Vancouver, Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., P.C., Vancouver-Burrard, and a number of other opposition members, Defence Minister Abbott said the method of relieving men in the occupation force now was being worked out.

The N.R.M.A. troops were regarded as potential replacements for the force, but it was not known yet whether they would be used.

Charges of discrimination in the army were made by M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. leader, who said some men were demoted or let out of the army for alleged C.C.F. tendencies; by Bona Arseneault, Ind., Bonaventure, Que., who dealt with the treatment of French-speaking Canadians, and by T. F. Bentley, C.C.F., Swift Current, Sask., who said men from the prairie provinces had not received their share of promotions in the army.

Mr. Abbott said he believed the occupation force was one of the things Prime Minister King would have discussed with the British government during his visit to Britain. Mr. King might also discuss it with President Truman.

When the House opened, Justice Minister St. Laurent said arrangements for the Washington conference with President Truman and Prime Minister Atlee on the atomic bomb had forced Prime Minister King to change his plans and cancel his visit to the continent of Europe.

The Senate also met and heard Senator A. D. McRae, P.C., British Columbia, state that a national program for the development of Canada's gold resources might in 10 years raise her production more than 100 per cent to a value of $500,000,000 a year and simultaneously provided sustenance for 1,200,000 of her citizens.

Price Investigator Alleges Frauds By Subsidized Firms

OTTAWA (CP)—C. C. Cardoza, an investigator for the Prices Stabilization Corporation, complained his activities had been restricted after he had uncovered frauds by firms receiving government subsidies, it was disclosed when his letter of resignation was tabled in the Commons Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Cardoza's letter claimed his activities had recovered about $1,000,000 for the government, and if some frauds had not been stopped "it would have cost the taxpayers further millions."

Chief Investigator T. L. Daniels, accepting Mr. Cardoza's resignation, effective Nov. 17, wrote that unless each government department restricted the activities of its officers to department matters "a state of unutterable chaos would result."

He also replied to charges made by Mr. Cardoza that "it is one thing during the course of investigations to form an impression, or suspicion that a certain state of affairs exists, but it is quite another thing to be able to prove it successfully in a court of law."

The exchange was tabled by State Secretary Martin at the request of Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, who Tuesday placed questions on the order paper seeking information on the disposition of investigations which he said were carried out after Mr. Cardoza had made reports.

One of Mr. Cardoza's reports was that filthy rags, dump refuse and used sanitary pads had been used by mattress manufacturers receiving government subsidies. He also charged leather goods had been upgraded and there were indications of discrimination against Jews by enforcement agencies.

THE INTERNATIONAL SCENE

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

Holland, faced by a serious threat to her wealth in Indonesia, is caught between the devil and the deep blue sea in her efforts to rehabilitate an economy almost completely disrupted by war.

To the immediate problem of domestic existence has been added the probability that her long-range economy must be adjusted to a steadily diminishing return from the rich colonies, and the possibility that some day she will lose them entirely.

AREAS FROM GERMANY

What she can do to offset this is the problem. Already the suggestion has been made that Holland should have part of Germany to offset her war losses, especially the land despoiled by German flooding. Now there is talk of expanding this idea to give her a more self-contained economy.

The Dutch themselves have treated the subject gingerly. Their present border with Germany, for the most part, has stood since the 16th century. It was arbitrary then, but as time passed the peoples on either side became more and more distinct, and the Dutch are wary of a "Sudetenland" which might plague them years from now, even though the example has been set by Poland in eastern Germany.

In considering a strip of Germany as replacement for flooded areas, the discussion has centred principally around an area from 20 to 50 miles wide from Aachen to the sea at Wilhelmshaven.

This presumably would include some coal mines just north of Aachen, some textile and paper manufacturing centres west of the Rhine, but would skirt the northern edges of the Rhenish-Westphalian industrial concentrations in the Ruhr and along the Rhine-Ems Canal, and would encompass principally agricultural lands.

COAL AND RUINS

A glance at the map, however, shows that with a slight extension of this previously discussed area, Holland would come into possession of a small but rich industrial area where lignite and coal mines, steel and chemical plants await renovation.

But she would also come into possession of a great mass of ruins which have been German cities, and would have to displace hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of Germans. Either that or try to absorb them, a system which has proved fatal all over Europe. Also, there is a question whether Holland has the manpower to rebuild and operate any important new industrial area.

There is the possibility relaxation of the Dutch hold on the Indies may come so gradually that adjustments can be made as time goes along.

People Should Choose Senators---McGeer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate would be "more powerful and more effective if its members had to face the voters periodically," Senator G. G. McGeer of British Columbia told a meeting of the East Ottawa Liberal Association Tuesday night.

"The Senate is not a house of lords... but an advisory body representing the people," Senator McGeer said, adding that "the time is long past due when the Canadian people should say who sits in the Senate."

Appointed for life, senators had "the finest old age pension club in the world."

Maj.-Gen. Letson Named To Joint Defence Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj.-Gen. H. F. G. Letson of Vancouver, army member on the Canadian Joint Staff in Washington, has been appointed army member of the Canadian section of the joint Canadian-United States Permanent Defence Board, replacing Lt.-Gen. Maurice Pope, the External Affairs Department announced Tuesday night.

Lt.-Gen. Pope's appointment to take command of a Canadian Military Mission to the Allied Control Council in Berlin was announced last week. He is already en route to Europe.

On the Permanent Joint Defence Board he will join a fellow army man, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former Defence Minister, who is now co-chairman of the board with Mayor LaGuardia of New York.

PRESIDENT WARNS BOTH SIDES

ONE PART OF MR. TRUMAN'S PRO-nouncement last night will have been noted with considerable satisfaction by the majority of the Canadian people. It was the chief executive's statement that the United States must "above all else hold the line of prices." And the tone which the President adopted to warn his compatriots of the dangers of inflation and deflation surely was not lost on his vast invisible audience. We in this country know, of course, that if wages and prices were permitted to get out of control in the neighboring republic, some of the inevitable and disastrous economic backwash would be bound to seep into Canada. For until the reconversion of industry on both sides of the 49th parallel has progressed to a point where the supply of consumer goods begins to meet the demand of the present surplus of purchasing power, it is vitally necessary for the economy of both countries that the utmost caution be exercised in the adoption of any changes in the present wage and price control structure.

Having disclosed his own and his administration's adamant attitude on this vital point, Mr. Truman announced his belief that certain wage increases could be justified, both because of apparent inequities, and because such an upward revision in several key industries need not occasion any rise in the selling price of the commodities involved. Nevertheless, the President was emphatic in his listing of the conditions to which such wage increases would have to conform—if existing maladjustments were to be remedied without danger to the basic principle of wage and price control. Equally forthright, moreover, were his strictures on the leftward attitude manifested by the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives toward the "full employment legislation" which he had sent to the Congress several months ago with the specific request that prompt action be taken. American workers, he reminded the public, were deeply concerned in this regard.

What our neighbors do about their internal affairs is their own business. But some of the advice Mr. Truman tendered to both Labor and Management is generally applicable to all relations—especially at this crucial time in the world's history—between employer and employee everywhere. Reduced to simple language, the President emphasized the need, the urgent need, for the main parties to these intermittent controversies to get together and agree upon a common denominator for the settlement of their disputes and disagreements—in the interest of all the people. It is neither new nor novel to argue that the principle of give-and-take pays greater and more satisfactory dividends than the illusory and temporary advantages which derive from the atmosphere of threat and counter-threat. And it is settlement on the peaceful basis—where the element of militancy and greed is eliminated—which is usually lasting. But both sides must first accept this method of approach. After such acceptance, and not before, will progressive legislation serve its full purpose.

BULLETS BEFORE BALLOTS

ALTHOUGH THE RESIGNATION OF Brazil's President Vargas was a tame affair as far as the outside world viewed it, it still remains an old-established, though nonetheless deplorable, custom in the majority of the Southern and Central American republics to conduct their political affairs in a military manner with gunplay deciding, and frequently replacing, the elections.

The revolution in Venezuela, however, seems to be one of those pre-election outbursts. Whether the rebel group is, as it claims, anti-fascist and seeks only to guarantee the country "free elections, restore the government to the people and take the army completely out of politics," or is itself fascist-inspired, is a question which only future actions can answer. President Medina, who was overthrown by the rebel junta composed of the rank and file of the army, led by the younger officers, was one of the most popular leaders the country has had in its recent history.

Under President Medina's administration, Venezuela enjoyed the close friendship of the other American nations. He brought about many improvements in agriculture, industry and education. His leadership in setting Venezuela against the Axis early in the war endeared his administration to the democracies of the world. If the current revolution was truly intended to prevent seizure of the government by fascist elements in next year's elections, then the motive must be heartily commended, although no Canadian can condone electioneering with bullets instead of ballots.

The Argentine situation—which is still dominated by Hitler-imitator Peron—where a military dictatorship has continued to rule despite outside pressures and internal opposition, is easily seen as influencing the governmental trends of all other Latin American countries, where military elements constantly are battling among themselves for control. That the Peron regime can continue to dominate against the wishes of a majority of the public and a large part of the military is incredible. It is even more incredible that measures the world powers have taken to force return to democratic government have failed. And because the dictators continue to override opposition, Argentina has become a bad apple which, unless the rot is eliminated, may spoil many other apples in the South American barrel.

COHESION IN THE FUTURE

WITHIN A MONTH, THE LAST MAIN body of Vancouver Island's own regiment, the Canadian Scottish, will have returned home, joining the scores of high-point men from the various battalions who have already reached the city through earlier demobilization. To honor the force which carried the tradition of the regiment to new glory in the Second World War, special events will be held in the form of a welcome. It is entirely fitting that this community should accord recognition to the men returning and those who are already here.

But it will be inadequate if the occasion becomes solely an isolated expression of appreciation for the task the regiment has performed, of tribute to those who will not be coming back and of thankfulness for those who have survived the historic actions in which the Canadian Scottish played so impressive a role. The event should lend itself to strengthening those bonds of comradeship and unity which lifted men above the harsh realities of battle to high achievement.

With that end in view, the regimental association will spare no effort to hold the men together for future activity of importance to themselves and the community. Prior to the war, the Canadian Scottish had carved for itself an enviable place in the life of Victoria. Its athletic teams were among the best in this city and its social life maintained the high standards of good fellowship which have been traditional with the regiment.

In the days ahead, when men accustomed to the routine of military life for the last five or six years are making the difficult transition back to civilian living, such an association should be of unusual benefit to them. Among their fellows they may discuss common problems, find useful advice and, in the quiet pride of membership in the ranks of those who have made a great contribution to their country and the cause of freedom, find added strength to meet the perplexities which must "lie before many of them."

REMEMBER, HERR STREICHER?

IT DOES NOT FOLLOW, WHEN A BARRISTER accepts the responsibility for defending a man, that the lawyer subscribes to the point of view of his client or in any way condones his actions. Counsel's duty is to protect him within the limits of the law and to raise relevant points which, in legal proceedings as we know them, must be answered completely by the prosecution before a conviction can be rendered. Very frequently the duties of defence entail matters of distaste to the barrister, but it is his job to put the interests of his client above his own personal point of view. Under our law the accused is theoretically innocent until he is proved guilty; and it is up to defence counsel to see that he is not proved guilty. But the onus must be very heavy on counsel for Nazi war criminal and Jew-baiter Julius Streicher. The fact that Streicher has apologized to his lawyer, Dr. Hans Marx, for having the latter imprisoned in 1936 for Masonic activity is scarcely likely to inspire the most impassioned defence.

VANDALISM

VANDALISM, WHICH IS NOT ONLY cutting into the city's lighting department appropriation but is destroying globes that can be replaced only with the greatest difficulty, casts a serious reflection on those young bloods who are responsible for the damage. The practice of smashing the glassware on Government Street has now reached a pass where the authorities have decided to withhold replacement until the trend ceases.

Presumably youths and young boys are responsible for the damage. In the case of the latter, parental supervision is apparently lacking. With their older fellows, the destruction reflects a moronic tendency which will merit correction by severe measures when the offenders are caught.

Tonight, as the city celebrates Hallow'en, there should be none to seize the occasion as an excuse for wilful damage. Provision has been made for the entertainment of the younger children, following lines pursued with commendable results in recent years. For their older brothers the evening should not be taken as an open season on the property of others.

NOT ENOUGH, MR. FRANCO

WERE IT NOT FOR THE BACKDROP of tragedy against which they are played, the little entr'actes of Generalissimo Francisco Franco would provide a humorous touch to the international stage at this time. Announcing a decree granting Spaniards freedom of assembly and association, he states that freedom of expression will be permitted if it is "not against the fundamental principles of the state." In other words, if Mr. Franco can play at being democratic, but reserve his dictatorial powers for occasions "when the chips are down," he is quite prepared to put up a front that might appeal to free peoples.

Unfortunately for Mr. Franco, the world audience can penetrate beyond the surface appearance he assumes in his scramble to avoid the consequences of a grim drama in which he has been the central figure. No matter how he changes costumes, the actor Franco will not escape just payment for the role he has played too long.

OUR SOVIET POLICY RECONSIDERED

THE FRENCH elections are the latest and the most impressive in a series of events which throw a great deal of light upon the paramount question of our relations with the Soviet Union. They show, I believe, that American policy and opinion have been badly confused by a mistaken estimate of the influence which the Soviet Union is able to exert beyond its own frontiers in Europe. The underlying assumption has been that in the misery and chaos of liberated Europe, the masses of the people would naturally turn to the Communist parties inspired and supported by Moscow. On that there has been a remarkable tacit agreement among those who were ready to welcome the spread of Communism and those who were mortally opposed to Communism.

THERE ARE THE best of reasons for thinking that it is extremely improbable that Europe, beginning in the east with Poland, could be organized in a Soviet system. If the worst happened, Europe might possibly sink into anarchy, and amidst general anarchy local dictators might appear here and there. But to organize a Soviet system in Poland, Italy, and France, and even, as some of our more excited observers have suggested, in Great Britain, is an undertaking which is almost certainly quite beyond the power of Moscow and of the local Communists who follow Moscow.

A Soviet Europe is either a nightmare or a Utopian dream; it is in any case an imaginary idea. Every attempt to impose the Soviet system upon Europe evokes resistance and reaction which would only grow stronger the more strenuous the effort to overcome them.

THERE IS NOW an accumulating mass of evidence that the fundamental issue in Europe is not whether the Soviet system is going to expand westward to the Atlantic, or even to the Elbe, or even to the Vistula. No election anywhere has as yet shown that the Communists have even a bare majority, much less the kind of overwhelming majority which would be necessary if a totalitarian state were to be established by popular consent.

In the European countries, which are fully independent—notably France but also Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, and Denmark, there is not the slightest reason to suppose that the mass of the people think of the Soviets and the Red Army as their saviors. They know how great was the part the Soviet Union played in their liberation, and how gallantly so many of their own Communists behaved during the resistance. But it is certain as anything can be that the great majority have no intention of trying to buy relief from their economic misery by surrendering those liberties which, as Hitler reminded them, are more precious than life itself.

FINALLY, THERE are many strong indications that the discipline of the Red Army and of Soviet officialdom is tending to break down as a result of their contact with countries which are not Russian, and have not been subject to the indoctrination and discipline of the Soviet system. The reports are too circumstantial and too numerous to leave any doubt that underneath all the smoke of the stories about indiscipline and even desertion there is a substantial fire.

It is, I believe, a principal reason why local Soviet officials are so sticky about giving American correspondents free access to countries within the lines of the Red Army, and it may well have been a determining influence upon the action of M. Molotov at London. There is, I believe, a tendency for the Soviet power to disintegrate in Europe; our own is certainly diminishing and so also is the British. It would be only natural, then, that the Kremlin, especially if at the same time it is concerned with the succession to Stalin, should feel that it cannot now make firm agreements, and that it must re-examine its whole foreign position.

SO ALSO MUST we re-examine ours. The belief, which has played so great a part in our own policy, that a Red tide was moving irresistibly westward, was a natural enough hypothesis in the days when the mighty Red Army was moving forward so majestically. If the German army could not stop it, nothing, it was supposed, would stop it till it reached the Atlantic, and it was easy to jump to the conclusion that the Communist ideology would move forward irresistibly with the invincible Red Army.

But the hypothesis was untrue. It assumed falsely that the prestige of the Red Army, which was so high when it liberated eastern Europe, would continue and would even grow during the occupation.

OTHER INFLUENCES have contributed to our own over-estimate of the Red expansion. There has been a very strong propaganda conducted by displaced officials of the governments in exile who have believed, many of them no doubt honestly, that but for the Russians, certainly with American backing, they would again have a political future at home. They have exercised great influence on our officials and upon newspapermen.

It is impossible not to refer also to the fact that our attitude has been much affected by the traditional British disposition to align the smaller countries and to seek strong allies against the strongest power in Europe. The labor government seems to follow this line as instinctively as any other.

We must base our policy not on the imaginary fear of Communist expansion westward but upon the need of strengthening European democracy against the real peril of anarchy.

To all statesmen: The words are "United Nations," not "Three United Nations and a lot of little ones that don't count."

OUR LIGHTING SYSTEM

I am not altogether a pure sentimentalist. I shed no tears at the departure of Victoria's antique streetcars. The plan, however, to dispose of Victoria's unique and attractive cluster lights seems to me to be a case of pure vandalism.

These lamps are, I hear, to be replaced by the glare of something eminently modern and jarring to the quiet charms of Victoria.

Why is greater light required?

To lower the taxes of a wealthy population who derive much profit from the tourist trade?

If this plan is carried out, I only observe that the population must be capable of slumbering through a massacre.

The hanging baskets will go next. Victoria will become just another sordid industrial and commercial city. I for one will never again be able to encourage my friends south of the border to follow the birds to Victoria, B.C.

Colwood.

SOMEWHAT LUGUBRIOUS

The international structure built at San Francisco was demolished by the atomic bomb; and we are plainly on the dreadful descent to World War III. One course only will save us. Nations must unite, not in a League of Nations, as at San Francisco, for a league perpetuates the fragmentation of society into national units, but in a world state. Parliament and government are required at the international level to deal with matters of world security and welfare. The message inviting delegates to a convention to draft a constitution for the peoples of the world can be issued by the president or prime minister of any of the United Nations. Is statesmanship so weak that none of these persons can utter that ringing call for which mankind is waiting?

LEWIS DUNCAN,
73 Adelaide Street, West, onto.

Jews and PALESTINE

Mr. DeWitt MacKenzie is very rightly becoming agitated about the question of the Jews and Palestine, this, as he says in Friday's column, is "one of the most dangerous of the crises which are threatening our international peace."

When we consider what we have just been fighting for, there must surely be some better solution than to force an unwanted people upon a country which has already taken over so large a share of these poor homeless refugees.

If it is really necessary to remove these unhappy people into some other country, in spite of the unconditional surrender of the countries which persecuted them so badly, then why not absorb them into the Allied countries who have been fighting, amongst other things, to free them?

The United States, surely could make room among her millions for 100,000 or so; Canada, with her vast resources and her vacant spaces should be able to take at least 50,000; Australia, South Africa, Russia, Mexico, Argentina, Brazil and many other Allied countries, each one of which has many uncultivated acres, should all be asked to do their part by taking on a share of the obligation.

E. W. ABRAHAM,
1125 Faithful Street.

WHAT WENT WRONG?

Of late the people have been told to be sure and get on the voters list. Then they were told not only to be sure and vote themselves, but get out others to do likewise.

My wife and daughter both went and registered at the appointed time, and as proof their names were on the list, they received election literature in their full names from all the parties, yet when they presented themselves at the polling station they were told they could not vote as they were not on the list for Victoria.

Was it a case that my wife and daughter suffered the loss of their franchise because of my political views? Does not this democracy we talk so much about claim all adults have an equal right to vote? Then what is the cause of people losing their vote when they have complied with the regulations required? C. LUFF,

Hometown Letter

DEAR

BRITISH Columbia's Coalition administration, supported by Liberals and Progressive Conservatives, swept the province in last week's elections. Premier John Hart and six members of his cabinet were re-elected as his Coalition government scored nine gains from the C.C.F.

COALITIONIST carried all constituencies of Greater Victoria. Premier John Hart, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and W. T. Strath, K.C., were re-elected in Victoria City, while in Oak Bay Works Minister Herbert Anscomb won a substantial majority. Norman W. Whitaker, K.C., Speaker of the 20th Legislature, carried Saanich. Esquimalt has a new Coalition member, Cmdr. C. T. Beard who defeated Harry Webster, C.C.F., to succeed Sqdn. Ldr. E. V. Finland as M.L.A.

SHOTS fired by Constable Walter Patterson failed to halt a man and girl who fled from the Monterey Market, Oak Bay Avenue, when they heard the constable at the rear of the store.

IN connection with the Victory Loan drive, now in its second week, H.M.C.S. Prince Robert was thrown open to inspection. Vast crowds jammed Ogden Point docks as 6,000 Victorians looked over the ship which returned from Hongkong 10 days ago.

AS a souvenir to remind the city of the repatriated prisoners of war who passed through here, Capt. F. W. Rork of the Indian Army has sent Mayor Percy George a 100 Yuan note, Jap occupation money, across which he wrote "Thumbs up and well done, Victoria, Oct. 18, 1945."

ALBERT COLLIS, a veteran of 50 years' service with the B.C. Electric, will be retired from the post of traffic inspector on Nov. 1. He will be succeeded by H. Rowland Hall, who has been his assistant in recent years.

TRANSFER of Pacific Command back to Victoria got under way last week-end. From Vancouver a transport ferry brought 25 truckloads of office furniture, records, files and other equipment. E. E. Murphy, recently appointed deputy minister of public works for the Dominion government, is on his way from Ottawa to Victoria to discuss development of harbor facilities here. So long as it is available an extra dozen pints of ale will be available in November to B.C. liquor permit holders.

Erection of a new Y.M.C.A. building in Victoria as a lasting memorial to the young men who did not return from the wars was urged by J. W. Johnson, director, at the annual Founders' Day dinner in the "Y" Friday night.

WITH the aft section of her hanger deck converted into a vast sick bay, Britain's carrier Glory steamed into Esquimalt harbor. She carried 1,350 British troops, released from Jap camps, 161 Canadian veterans of Hongkong and 26 civilians. There were 140 hospital cases aboard. The 18,000-ton light fleet carrier tied up at the Naden-graving dock. Crowds of naval personnel welcomed the ship, but civilians were forbidden entrance to Naden so the large number of hospital cases could be quickly removed. A fleet of ambulances waited for them at the dockside.

FALCONER Marine Industries Inc. are well launched on a reconversion program. They are engaged on a fishing craft construction project which will be followed by a bid for luxury pleasure craft markets and accompanied by an entry into the fishing industry as an independent concern. A resident of Victoria for the past 30 years Mrs. Katie Dyke Pope, 88, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Spencer, 2908 Cook Street. Missing for the last two weeks, Myfanny Saunders, 15-year-old Marigold girl, is the object of police search.

HOME AFTER 10 years' absence, more than three and a half years of it as a prisoner of war in Java, Sqdn. Ldr. Alex Jardine, A.F.C., said the Japs did all they could to keep down the physical condition and lower the morale of their prisoners. B.C. police are seeking a driver believed to have left 58-year-old Harper Cunningham lying injured on the Island Highway at Colwood after knocking him from his bicycle. Mr. Cunningham's condition is not serious. Emergency Shelter officials report notices sent out a short time ago to owners of houses standing vacant and being held for sale are already having results. The notices warned the owners that if they did not have the houses occupied within 30 days steps would be taken to complete their occupancy.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG'S was the latest name band to visit Victoria. About 500, including businessmen and parents, crowded with the jive hounds into the Sirocco to watch and dance. Bishop Harold Sexton has been invited to visit Russia during the latter part of December. He received the invitation in a letter from the ambassador of the U.S.S.R. to Canada, Bishop Sexton hasn't decided yet whether he will go. He said: "Getting away at Christmas time would be difficult."

DIVORCES granted in B.C. Supreme Court during September totaled 69. Number granted so far this year is higher than during any other year in the history of the province. In June

Concrete Roof For Memorial Arena

Another step forward in the building of Victoria's Memorial Arena was made Tuesday afternoon when the committee finally decided on having the barrel-type concrete roof in preference to the steel truss, Ald. F. A. Willis, committee chairman, said following the meeting.

The matter of the type of roof to be used has been debated for several months, while consulting engineers from Vancouver gave their opinion, and finally recommended the concrete roof which will be placed on a reinforced concrete building.

Drawing of final plans and specifications may now proceed, Ald. Willis said. No decision regarding the calling of tenders in the near future was made.

Although some builders estimate that the barrel-type concrete roof will cost approximately $6,000 more than the steel truss roof, Ald. Willis said, that estimates may show it will actually cost less.

Among those present were Col. A. E. McB. Bell-Irving and Sidney Hogg of Western Bridge and Steel Fabricators Ltd., Vancouver, builders of steel truss-type roofs, and C. T. Hamilton, construction engineer, also of Vancouver.

Representing the city were Mayor Percy George, Ald. Ed. Williams, Ald. J. A. Worthington, Ald. B. J. Gadsden and Ald. T. W. Hawkins.

Others in attendance were P. L. James, Douglas James, D. C. Frame and Hubert Savage, architects; Hugh Francis and C. W. Marshall, representing the Citizens' Committee and city employees.

two wool blankets for the institute ward in the local hospital, and also that 140 pounds of sugar was being made into jam for the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Mrs. A. Davis and Mrs. P. O'Connell reported on the district conference. A donation of $25 was made to the sinking fund of the community hall. It was decided to hold the annual Christmas tree and party for the children.

Veterans Interested In Study of Music

Toronto Conservatory of Music announces that candidates for rehabilitation in music are only admitted to the Toronto Conservatory of Music if it is considered possible that they will make a living in music at the completion of their course.

There has been an unprecedented demand from veterans for music study, but far too many men are applying, with an affection for the art, and some study in the remote past as their only stock-in-trade. Dr. Charles Peaker, Director of the Conservatory, who is dealing with many of these cases, feels very strongly that any teachers who are consulted by these veterans would be much kinder and fairer if they would discourage them, rather than leading them on with false hopes.

B.C. City Workers Moving Elsewhere

Movements of city workers to out-of-town employment—in logging, mines, sawmills, pulp and paper mills and other basic industries—has begun in British Columbia.

B.C. selective service officials report that "economic pressure" has been instrumental in forcing workers in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster to accept interior and northern jobs.

Hundreds of servicemen unable to find suitable employment in the city are going to lumber camps and mines, officials report.

The movement has caused a tremendous increase in job placements. In the last seven weeks they have reached the highest point in the history of selective service which now is known as employment service.

Spencer's Remnants

Spencer's Remnants of Victoria held their monthly meeting in Spencer's dining room Monday when 16 new members admitted brought the total membership to 78. As all members of the Remnants have served in H.M. forces, it is expected that this number will be considerably increased with the return of old staff members and the employment of new.

It is also anticipated that a women's division will be organized in the near future. This unique organization was created to retain and foster the spirit of comradeship that existed between servicemen during the 1914-18 war. The scope has been enlarged to include veterans of World War 2 but with the primary object in view.

'Bunkhouse Ballads'

Poet of the tall timbers, Robert E. Swanson, author of "Rhymes of a Lumberjack," and "Rhymes of a Western Logger," has just completed the third in a series of poems dealing with British Columbia's outdoors, titled "Bunkhouse Ballads."

The 20 poems, written over a period of 18 months, while the author was working in the Queen Charlottes, helping to produce airplane spruce for the war effort, concern "the trials and tribulations, lives and ways of that outdoor breed of men who have built the great northwest of America," according to Mr. Swanson, who was in Victoria Monday.

The collection is published by Thomas Allen Ltd., Toronto, and will be available for sale in Victoria about mid-November, he said. Illustrations are by Bert Bushell.

The "Rhymes of a Lumberjack" were published in 1942. Poems in "Bunkhouse Ballads" include "Bull Pen Blues," "They'll Do It Every Time," and "Tale of the Dying Tramp." There is a glossary of technical terms for those not versed in the language of the timberlands.

Birth Rate Hits 17-Year High

British Columbia's birthrate which sank to a 30-year low in depression year 1933, has climbed back to 20.89 per 1,000 population, the highest since 1916, the annual report of Vital Statistics of the Provincial Board of Health showed today.

The report for 1943, the latest year for which statistics were available, showed a steady increase in the birthrate since 1933, despite a decrease in 1942 in the marriage rate.

At the same time the report noted: "Illegitimacy has shown a marked increase in the 10 years since 1934. This trend started in 1924 when the rate of illegitimacy was 17 per 1,000 live births and shows no marked decrease since that time."

Illegitimate birthrate in 1943 was 35.8, compared with 38.4 in 1942, and 38.5 in 1941, the highest rate since 1934.

In 1943 there were 827 illegitimate births compared with 759 the year before.

"The stillbirths in the province for 1943 show an increase over the previous year, but the rate per 1,000 living births fell from 18.1 to 16.9," the report said. "It should be noted that when Indians are excluded from these statistics the rate increases."

While illegitimacy has increased in B.C., legitimation of births has increased.

"There were 128 births of children born out of wedlock legitimated subsequent to the marriage of their natural parents during 1942. In each case a new registration was filed showing the child as legitimate from birth, after complete investigation by the division," the report said.

"The past four years have shown a tremendous increase in the number of births legitimated over the prewar years. This is due largely to the Dependents' Allowance Board in Ottawa, which carefully documents each soldier, and all details of marriages, births, etc., are carefully checked before granting payments to the dependents."

3 MOTHERS ONLY 14

Three mothers of 14 gave birth to children in B.C. in 1943. They were the youngest mothers.

The youngest father was 16. The division listed four women 50 years and over as being mothers. Ten men listed as 65 and over were fathers that year.

More women of 23 gave birth to children than mothers of any other age, while there were more children fathered by 29-year-olds than by men of any other age.

Births to parents of Japanese origin totaled 344.

Only 74% Exercised Victoria Franchise In Last Week's Vote

Percentage of the Victoria electorate who exercised the franchise in last week's provincial general election dropped to 74 from the 81 per cent of the enfranchised Victorians who voted in the June 11 federal general election, it was estimated today on the incomplete returns of the civilian and registered active service vote.

Total vote throughout the province was 392,845, against 453,893 in the last provincial election, Oct. 21, 1941.

In Victoria the total vote in last week's poll was up from the 71,29 per cent of the registered voters who cast ballots in the 1941 general poll.

An unofficial compilation of the popular vote so far shows that throughout the province 219,450 ballots were cast for the Coalition—nearly 75,000 more than the 145,773 for the C.C.F. The Labor Progressive Party polled 14,291 votes, while the Social Credit's vote was 6,023. Minor parties won a total of 7,308 votes.

Final returns on the voting will not be announced until after the final count, to be made about Nov. 15.

Bad weather conditions in the interior, eastern and northern sections of the province were blamed for the decrease of votes.

Owner of Sans Pour To Be Here Soon

The Duke of Sutherland, owner of the yacht Sans Pour, which has been in service here for the Canadian Navy since the outbreak of war, is now in Ottawa with the duchess, and is expected to return here soon.

At the outbreak of war, the duke abruptly terminated an Alaska cruise aboard his $450,000 yacht, turned it over to the Admiralty at Vancouver, and returned to England. He arrived back in Canada aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

A rumored $10,000 worth of fishing equipment was included in valuables taken from the Sans Pour and stored for safekeeping during the war.

'Cap' Thorsen Sits In At Lord Haw-Haw's Trial

By ROY "CAP" THORSEN
Before I returned to Canada I realized an old ambition I had held as a former police court reporter to attend a top-billing trial in the Central Criminal Court in London's famous Old Bailey.

I spent four hours watching and listening to the proceedings of the second day of the trial of William Joyce, better known as the infamous Lord Haw-Haw. I was curious to get a first-hand look at this individual, whose voice I had heard many times in the last few years over the airwaves on the "Germany Calling" program—and more than once had heard him send a few digs in the direction of the Canadian army. But this visit to Old Bailey was prompted by more than that. I was anxious to see how a feature case such as the Joyce trial would compare with a big trial in Canada.

It was not the wigs and robes nor the old atmosphere that caught my attention so much as the smallness of this wide-world known court of justice, where many famous cases have been tried. It quite astonished me. From my vantage point in the dinky balcony I could see most of the courtroom and saw that space for spectators was pitifully small, not even as much room for the public as in our British Columbia Courthouse on Bastion Street, if my memory serves me correctly. However, it must be pointed out that the Central Criminal Court is but one of four courtrooms in Old Bailey, which boasts 10-ton pillars of solid Italian marble and has an 18-ton bronze figure of justice topping the dome.

NOT A SHOW

I remarked on the inadequacy of accommodation for the public to sit in on criminal trials to A. C. Blything, one of London's fastest friends of the Canucks, and to the U.S. sheriff, Ralph Metehin, who was introduced to me by Mr. Blything. Both agreed it was small, but explained it this way: "We do not make a show of our trials like they do in your part of the world. The primary object is to see that justice is done."

As far as I could see, I was the only uniformed Canadian present. There were queues outside hoping to bag one of the precious 20 seats, all that were left for the "first there, first served" public. Even after the trial had started, people remained in the queues, hoping somebody would tire of the trial and leave, to create a vacancy. Mr. Blything came to my rescue and as a result of his efforts I was presented with a "glit-edged" permission ticket from the under sheriff. I must admit, though, that this permission was influenced largely by the fact I was presented as "a former peacetime reporter from the Victoria Daily Times, Victoria, B.C., who is anxious to watch the proceedings of an English trial."

There was a marked difference in this trial from cases I have seen here. Yes, even in Magistrate Henry Hall's city police court I saw far more of the spectacular than this day at Haw-Haw's trial. In fact, there was not a single thrilling episode, no angry words hurled, no rapid-fire questions flung at witnesses by crown and defence counsel. Everything, in truth, was "strictly English," absolutely bare of dramatics, the voices on both sides quiet, unhurried.

The day was almost completely used up to establish the prisoner's nationality and quotations on treasonable matters dating into the long, long past.

And Joyce, his hair thinning on top and dressed in a navy-blue suit, a blue shirt and wearing a dark tie, looked quite unperturbed in the prisoner's dock. He sat with his head held high, his hands resting in his lap and sometimes changing to the crossed-arms position... periodically he craned forward to make sure he heard all that was being said. Now and then something said that favored his defence caused a smile to light up his face, which was marked with a scar running from the mouth to the ear on the right cheek. He frequently jotted down notes on the several pieces of paper on his lap. I once saw him scribble a note and pass it on to one of the constables in the dock for relaying to defending counsel.

(This being the last day of my repatriation leave, I was unable to attend the trial further, but saw in London dailies of Sept. 20 that he had been convicted of treason on the third charge in the charges against him and was sentenced to death by hanging—but accompanying this was a statement that Joyce would appeal.)

MOST HATED VOICE

The immense reader interest in the trial was indicated in the large amount of space accorded it in the press, and this interest is not surprising for his taunting voice became the most hated voice—the people of the Isles had ever heard on the airwaves, especially in the days when the eggs of death were pouring down from the skies in great numbers.

After viewing a trial of this magnitude we cannot help but admire the British for their fairness in giving the accused every possible opportunity to defend himself. The persons who defended him—and top notchers, they were—no doubt still remember those days and nights of hell during the months of the Battle of Britain, but in spite of this they went "all out" fighting for him—I believe, that could easily be gathered by the blow-by-blow press descriptions. And the press in this country certainly keeps the public informed on the happenings in the courts, which, in our opinion, goes a long way toward making up for the lack of spectator room in the English courtrooms.

The marriage was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the chapel of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, of Jean Margaret, third daughter of Inspector and Mrs. A. H. Bishop of Victoria, and SPO. Valentine Spencer Cass, R.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cass, Seale, North Farnham, England. Dean Cecil Swanson performed the ceremony.

For her wedding costume, the bride chose an afternoon frock of aqua blue crepe, small brown hat trimmed with veiling and alligator accessories. A corsage bouquet of red rosebuds and swainsona completed her ensemble.

Miss Peggy Wharton of Victoria was bridesmaid, frocked in navy blue with fuchsia trim and a small fuchsia hat. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias. Best man was Yeoman of Signals George Harding, R.N.

The honeymoon was spent in Vancouver.

Member of C.W.A.C. Weds Army Corporal

An all-army wedding took place Saturday evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church when L.Cpl. Inga Peterson, C.W.A.C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Bronsdon, formerly of Prince Albert, Sask., was united to Cpl. Frank Textor, R.C.E.M.E., son of Mrs. J. Appleby, Avalon Street. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated and C. C. Warren was the organist. During the signing of the register, Mrs. T. J. Morgan of Vancouver sang "Because."

The bride was given away by Mr. Bronsdon and wore a too-touching gown of white embossed sheer, tiny tucks featuring the fitted bodice. Her veil fell from a coronet trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of deep red roses and gardenias.

Similar frocks of white sheer were worn by the three bridesmaids. Sgt. Irene Beguley, C.W.A.C., also wore a tiny hat of pink satin and carried pink carnations, while Misses Judy and Leta Bronsdon had green velvet half-hats and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Cpl. S. C. Renares, R.C.E.M.E., was best man, and ushering were Gnr. Peter Peterson and Pte. Fred Baguley, both of the R.C.A.

Mothers of the couple received many guests at a reception at the home of the bride, 157 Olive Street.

Cpl. and Mrs. Textor will reside in Victoria following a honeymoon in Vancouver. Going away the bride wore a scarlet wool frock with black topcoat and black accessories.

Children Entertained By Junior Auxiliary

Hallowe'en will be celebrated in time-honored fashion tonight at the Protestant Orphans' Home, when girls of the junior auxiliary entertain the children at a Hallowe'en party.

Supper will be served early at tables decorated specially for the evening with pumpkins, witches and yellow and black paper streamer.

A fancy dress parade has also been arranged with prizes for boys and girls. The children are making their own costumes and some of the ideas these ingenious young minds have thought up are quite out of the ordinary. Judging will be done by members of the auxiliary.

Fireworks have been arranged for the older children on the lawn in front of the home, immediately after the fancy dress parade. As it is a school night, the festivities, which will commence early, will be over by 10 o'clock. Miss Joan Forrest is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Doreen Blake, Mrs. Jean Richardson, Miss Elsie Appleby and Miss Peggy Lowe.

COL. J. JEFFERY

The ex-serviceman is an asset to any community, in the opinion of Col. J. Jeffery, executive secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, and he is eager to convince Victoria businessmen that many veterans not only will be hard-working, conscientious employees, but will bring with them new and profitable ideas gained from experiences in other parts of the world.

Himself a veteran with 46 years of service in the British and Canadian armies to his credit, Col. Jeffery became executive secretary of the council in June of this year, and since late in August has been carrying on his work in the present office. He joined the army at the age of 15, fought in the Boer War and the first Great War, was superintendent of physical training at Royal Military College, Kingston, for several years, and served in Canada, except for a short visit overseas, during the second Great War, before receiving his retirement on reaching the age limit.

Many young veterans returning to Victoria, Col. Jeffery says, would like to enter business under the apprenticeship system, with the government paying a share of their salaries. He says that so far, not every prospective employer has been willing to take veterans on this basis, and he thinks more businessmen should see that by doing so, they can help veterans without loss to themselves, and with likelihood of profit.

"I have been very much impressed with the type of man coming to this office," Col. Jeffery stated recently. "They are serious-minded, earnest, and very anxious to be rehabilitated as quickly as possible. Judging by my experience of men, they are going to be an asset to the community, and should be given every possible consideration."

Now What?

He's Back ...

As a fighting man he did more for us than we can ever hope to repay. Yet all he asks in return is a fair chance to find and fill the right civilian job.

The least we can do is to see that he gets this help... see that every young veteran is fitted for the future through the Government's Rehabilitation Program.

Under this program returned men and women are trained, equipped, and directed into farming, factories, business or professions according to their ambition and ability. Some need hospitalization, some pensions—all get gratuities and re-establishment credits.

It's going to take a lot of money to carry to completion such a vital and comprehensive plan. Every Canadian will have to dig deep to raise the sum that's needed.

Now that the shooting and shouting are over, let's tell these fellows that we are still interested! Let's come through and make their training for the future our first and most important job!

Get behind the 9th Victory Loan!

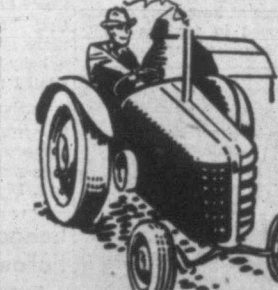

HERE'S A YOUNG MECHANIC who learned his trade under Post Discharge Re-Establishment, and is now a skilled operator. The dollars you invest in the 9th Victory Loan will help others to become as happily re-established.

THIS DISABLED LAD is getting the very best of care. Your 9th Victory Loan dollars will make it possible for all such cases to carry on until they can get back on their feet again. Everyone must help. It is the least we can do.

BY SUPPORTING THE 9TH VICTORY LOAN you help young veterans to take up their studies where they left off. Canada recognizes the need to give such returning men and women every opportunity to complete their education.

THIS "VETERAN" FARMER was once a bomb aimer and he planted bombs for victory. What he sows today will add to the growth of Canada. You can help many young farmers like this by backing the 9th Victory Loan.

THIS ONE LOAN MUST TAKE THE PLACE OF TWO

There will be only one Victory Loan in the next 12 months. Therefore you will be asked to buy more than before. The same rate of saving each month will enable you to buy twice as many Victory Bonds this time. It is a big job we have to do. Shoulder your share!

Cancer, Diseases Of Heart, Arteries Increase Death Rate

Great increases in the number of deaths caused by cancer and diseases of the heart and arteries, the chief causes of deaths in British Columbia, were blamed today in the Vital Statistics report of the Provincial Board of Health for the increase of B.C.'s death rate to 11.12 per 1,000 population, the highest since 1919.

The report for 1943, the last year for which statistics are available, showed the death rate for that year had continued in its upward trend since 1939.

"This is in part attributable to the great increase in deaths from diseases of the heart and arteries," said the report. "This cause alone was responsible for 3,412 deaths this year, a rate of 379.1 per 100,000 population, as compared to a rate of 250.5 in 1939. Fatalities from cancer also are increasing greatly, the death rate rising from 127.3 per 100,000 population in 1939 to 143.3 this year.

"Deaths in the group aged 50 years and over made up nearly three-quarters, 72.9 per cent, of the total deaths, aged one to 49 years 20.9 per cent, and under one year of age 7.1 per cent," the report said. "When Indian deaths are not included the percentage of all deaths in the group over 50 rises to 76.8 per cent, with 18.5 per cent aged one to 49, and 6.02 per cent aged under one year. Indian deaths make up 19.1 per cent of all deaths under 40, and 21 per cent of all deaths under one year, but only 2.2 per cent of all deaths over 40 years of age."

Deaths of children less than one year represented 6.02 per cent of all deaths, and 63.8 per cent of all deaths under 20, the report shows.

"The greatest single cause of infant deaths was prematurity, with 202 deaths, 35.9 per cent of all infant deaths," the report said. "This gives a mortality rate of prematurity of 11.4 per 1,000 live births, an increase of 3.2 over the 1942 rate of 8.2."

Kiwanis See Film Of Power Production

A B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. film, "What's Behind the Switch," with a running commentary by J. W. Casey, line superintendent for the B.C.E.R., was shown at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Empress Hotel, Tuesday.

The film displayed the source of power at Jordan River, and traced the production and transportation of the electricity until it reached the home, where the film displayed a modern kitchen with all modern electrical conveniences, all of which Mr. Casey hoped to see on the market soon.

Sixteen circuits feed Greater Victoria, Mr. Casey said, and at present, two additional circuits are being added. To get the proper voltage at the private homes, transformers are installed at different locations.

HOLDING to the opinion our amateur athletes deserve a better break, Bobby van Horne, well known throughout the province as one of the best fellows in the business when it comes to looking after and training athletes, has approached me with a proposition that should interest every sports organization in the city. Providing the officials and team managers in rugby, football, Canadian football, basketball and so forth will give their co-operation, van Horne is willing to give of his time and experience to educate trainers. "I'll hold regular weekly classes and in two months will provide these future trainers with the fundamentals of training and provide them with sufficient knowledge to look after lads who receive injuries on the field of play," Bobby said. "It will be a case of teaching them to do the right thing when it is most needed."

SPORT will never get a better break. The associations have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Van Horne boasts a world of experience and looking after athletes has been his business for years. In his own words: "There is no prominent athlete in Victoria who has ever suffered from a bad sprain or wrench or torn ligament that has not come under my hands." Bobby's main object is to get our young athletes proper attention at the right time. "Every year I have these youngsters come to me suffering from a leg or shoulder injury that should have received attention when the accident occurred, but instead they limp around for several days and aggravate the injury to the stage where it often results in serious damage." He then went on to tell me about a youngster who had visited him recently with a torn ligament that should have been set back in place when it happened, but was left for three days, with the result the lad will be out of action for the remainder of the season.

VAN HORNE'S PLAN, providing he receives the proper response, will be to have every team carry a trainer who has received the advantage of instruction at his classes. It will be up to the various clubs to select a man to take the training and Bobby will do the rest. "I would even like to get a youngster from each of the high schools in the classes, then they will be in a position to attend the school matches and give attention to any youngster that may suffer injury," Van Horne said. "After all, the school athletes deserve more attention than anyone as they are our future stars and should be given the best of care." My advice to sport is to take full advantage of such an offer. It will cost nothing and will certainly result in better playing conditions for our athletes.

PREDICTING a rosy future for automobile racing in the Pacific northwest, "Digger" Caldwell, who helped provide a lot of thrills at the old Langford speedway, is a visitor from Seattle. "Midgits are racing regularly now at Tacoma, Bremerton and Portland, and are drawing big crowds at a buck and a half admission charge," Caldwell said. Since taking up residence in the Sound City, Caldwell has been teaming up with Bud Green, another former Victorian, in driving a midgit. "We have done very well, although it took me quite a little time to get used to handling one of those doodle bugs," Caldwell is quite confident auto racing will return to Victoria next summer. The Langford track will still be available and by that time there will be sufficient big cars ready to face the starter. "Boys like Seth Renning, Claude Walling, Green and myself will have cars ready and will be only too willing to come here and race." At the present time, three Victoria boys are working on cars for next year's racing, Caldwell told me.

Lawson Proves Greatest Heaver Since Stevens

TORONTO (CP)—It's been a long, long time since anybody in Canadian football stood "behind the counter" and served up steaming pilskin for varsity stadium customers in the manner now being perfected by Mel Lawson of the University of Toronto.

The 22-year-old forestry student from Hamilton chucked an assortment of forward passes in varsity's 28- to 6- conquest of Queen's Saturday, but it was his 45-yard touchdown "strike" to Bob Henry in the fourth quarter which rocked the critics.

The long heave furlled the football calendar back to 1931 when Warren Stevens, relying principally on 50-yard pegs practically unknown to the Canadian grid, pitched Montreal Winged Wheelers into a Dominion title.

The 14-year link between Lawson and Stevens has extra significance today because pass master Stevens, as varsity coach, must be given at least partial credit for Lawson's sudden emergence as a long-distance slinger.

PLAYED FOR HAMILTON

Before joining the R.C.A.F. Lawson directed Hamilton Wildcats in their 1943 Canadian championship victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers but he wasn't a sure-fire passer until he hit the Toronto campus this season and Stevens went to work.

If Lawson maintains the pace he set Saturday football seems assured of a revival of its most intricate piece of timing—the long, drifting pass which requires perfect synchronization of the thrower and receiver.

In the interval between Stevens' retirement from active competition and Lawson's appearance on the scene, the long pass gradually gave way to the short, flat professional pass, with or without flea-flicker variations. Often teams completed two or three such heaves without making yards.

Vancouver Tops Ice Loop Turns Back Seattle

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks fought their way back into the Coast Hockey League lead last night by defeating a fighting Seattle Ironmen team 5 to 4 in overtime. More than 4,500 fans saw Alex Pringle take a pass from Joe Evans and bang the winning goal past Al Collins 77 seconds after the start of the sudden death extra period.

Vancouver opened the scoring midway through the opening canto when Mel Neilson tipped a shot from the stick of Lyle Swaney into the corner of the net. The Canucks increased their lead early in the second period when Ab McDougall took a pass from Jack Smith to break away and score. Seattle got one back, however, before the session ended, when Scoop Bentley, on a relay from Roger Jenkins, beat Ed McAneley in the Vancouver net.

It wasn't until after the 15 minute mark of the third stanza that further scoring took place, with Seattle outscoring Vancouver 2 to 1 in the final period. The score at 4 to 4. Nielsen tallied his second goal of the night to send Vancouver into a 5 to 1 lead before Bentley and Frank Dotten counted for Seattle to tie the count. Dick Gray sent the Canucks into the lead again, but Dotten slammed home his second counter less than two minutes from time to send the game into overtime.

Webb Suffers Kayo By Al Phillips

LONDON (CP)—Al Phillips of London Tuesday night battered Danny Webb, Montreal negro featherweight, around the ring in the first round of a scheduled eight-round boxing bout and knocked out the Montrealer in the sixth round.

Phillips scored eight knock-downs in the first round, the first punch, a right hook to the head, sent the Canadian army boxer down for a count of two. Another right hook put Webb on the canvas for a seven count. In quick succession he went down for counts of six, two, nine, eight, nine and two.

Webb boxed carefully in the second round and appeared to be recovering strength. In the third, the Montrealer's best round, he caught Phillips on the jaw with a well-timed right hook and put the Londoner down for a count of seven.

Phillips returned to the attack in the fourth, putting Webb down for two seconds, and from then on he taught the Montreal fighter a boxing lesson. He scored repeatedly with blows to Webb's face and the Canadian's nose and mouth began to bleed profusely. The end came in the sixth round when Phillips, after scoring with a series of straight lefts, dropped Webb for the full count with a short right hook.

McCarthy Hoping To Pilot Yanks Next 10 Seasons

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe McCarthy isn't ready to step out of baseball yet and is looking forward to the next spring training season as one of his most interesting adventures.

Joe came out of a three-hour huddle with president Larry MacPhail yesterday to announce that New York Yankees will have two conditioning camps at St. Petersburg and Bradenton for the first time in history.

"I hope to manage the Yanks for the next 10 years if my health holds out," commented McCarthy who must make a flock of decisions before February.

Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich, Phil Rizzuto, Charley Keller, Spud Chandler, Aaron Robinson, and Red Ruffing already have returned from the wars and many more like Joe Gordon, Bill Dickey, Bill Johnson, Buddy Hassett and Johnny Sturm are expected before another season. Then there are rookies scheduled to come back from the services.

70 PLAYERS AVAILABLE

Unofficial estimates indicate about 70 players will be quartered at St. Pete and across the bay at Bradenton where coach Art Fletcher probably will be in charge if his health permits.

Player personnel won't be the only change at the Yankee Stadium next year. Lights for night ball will be installed, MacPhail said the installation of the most powerful lighting system in baseball will start Jan. 1 at a cost of $250,000.

The right field bleachers will be roofed and a double-decked stand will increase the seating capacity to about 75,000.

Rangers Make Hockey Debut Against Hawks

Wartime underdogs of National Hockey League competition, New York Rangers open their peace-time campaign against the Black Hawks in Chicago with a revamped cast expected to elevate the club close to prewar standards.

Critics who watched Rangers at their Winnipeg training camp look for considerable improvement from the team which trailed the sixteen circuit for two straight years, winning six games in 1943-44 and 11 last season.

Acquisition of netminder Chuck Rayner and Sugar Jim Henry is expected to enhance Ranger prospects against Chicago, who defeated Boston Bruins and lost to Montreal Canadiens in their two games to date. Ken McAuley carried the netminding burden for Rangers last year.

New York newcomers this season include Hal Brown, Edgar Laprade, Hal Laycoe, Tony Leswick, Church Russell, Rene Trudel, Lynn and Murr Patrick, Mac and Neil Colville, Bill Juzda, Alan Kuntz, Alex Shibicky and Alf Pike. Some of those listed played for Rangers before entering the services and not all are available yet for N.H.L. campaigning.

Call lumber at less than the price of wood. This lumber cannot be sold commercially at the sawmill because of being offsize, too much bark, splits, checks or pitch streaks, but hundreds of loads are being sold, and pieces picked out to repair barns, sidewalks, fences, build chicken runs, rabbit runs, braces, bridging and filler in buildings and garden stakes. Even if all this lumber were cut into wood it would be cheap inside wood and a load will make about 1 1/2 cords. Especially handy for people who live outside of town and find it hard to get good wood. This lumber is in 2, 3 and 4-inch boards and planks, and timbers up to 20 feet long.

Deny Charge That Committee Neglect Crowds Hospital

Concern was expressed this morning by Ald. F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the city welfare committee, at a statement by Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of Jubilee Hospital, that 48 patients should be removed from the hospital by the welfare committee to make room for other more serious cases.

"That statement leaves the impression that there are 48 cases now in the Jubilee Hospital through neglect of the city welfare department," Ald. Mulliner said.

"This is not true. Upon request, Dr. Walker furnished E. G. Snowden, city welfare officer, with a list of the city welfare cases and there were only 13 on the list," he continued.

Of these, eight were cleared for removal only within the past few days, and under the law the city is given 14 days to have welfare cases removed. The other five have already been placed either in the aged men's home or in some nursing home or other institution, Mr. Snowden explained.

The remaining 35, to which Dr. Walker referred in his statement to Mayor Percy George Tuesday afternoon, are not the concern of the city because their doctors have not signed clearance papers releasing them from the hospital. "We cannot move patients from the hospital without their doctor's permission," Ald. Mulliner said, "although the city welfare committee appreciates the congested conditions at the hospital and is desirous of doing everything possible to co-operate with hospital authorities."

City's Decision On Buses Should Stand, Says B.C.E.R. Counsel

Public Utilities Commission was right in holding necessary the consent of the city to the B.C. Electric before granting the company the right to operate buses in the Fairfield-Gonzales area, Herbert W. Davey, K.C., counsel for the B.C. Electric, told the Court of Appeal here today.

In his reply to the appeal of the Blue Line against the Public Utilities Commission's decision, Mr. Davey submitted that the commission could not grant a decision to a company unless it already had the permission of the city to operate on a route.

He contended that it would be futile for the court to give an order reversing the commission's decision because it would be blocked by the action of the city which has already given its consent to the B.C. Electric to operate in the Fairfield-Gonzales district. Mr. Davey pointed out that the attitude of the city council in giving the right to a company to operate is not reviewable by the Court of Appeal.

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan suggested that had the commission granted the Blue Line's application it might have meant "complete futility," because the company could not operate on the streets laid down in their application.

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson questioned whether granting such an order would be futile. He said the Blue Line might immediately make application to the council to operate on the route granted by them to the B.C. Electric.

Mr. Davey maintained that in effect there was only one application before the commission—that of the B.C. Electric. He contended that in spite of this the commission had heard both applications on their merits.

SPECIAL P.V.-LAW

He pointed out that in order to implement the consent which the city gave to the B.C. Electric the council had passed a special by-law enabling the B.C. Electric to operate their proposed bus route as soon as the consent of the Public Utilities Commission was received.

Mr. Davey argued that the No. 6 streetcar cut through the heart of the Fairfield-Gonzales district and did not skirt its boundaries as claimed by the appellants. He said the Blue Line had claimed Cook Street as the western boundary of the area where it rightly stretched to Vancouver Street. "With the exception of the cemetery and Beacon Hill Park," said Mr. Davey, "the No. 6 streetcar passes right through the heart of the most populous part of the area."

He contended that it was no accident that the B.C. Electric ran through the centre of the most thickly-populated part of Fairfield-Gonzales but rather a normal development because houses always tend to spring up along transportation routes.

Mr. Davey held that there had been plenty of evidence before the commission to show that operation of buses would damage the No. 6 streetcar. He submitted that even people on the fringe of the Fairfield-Gonzales district had been using the No. 6.

In reading from the testimony which had been before the commission Mr. Davey showed how residents nearly a mile from the streetcar after considering the offers of both companies had decided that of the B.C. Electric most favorable.

He maintained the B.C. Electric had planned to operate a complementary service to include both buses and streetcars. From a financial standpoint, he said, the district would be considered as a whole. Even if the streetcar operated at a loss the B.C. Electric would be justified in continuing the service as long as there was an overall profit.

Mr. Davey argued that had the Blue Line been granted the decision the B.C. Electric would have been justified in asking the Public Utilities Commission permission to stop running streetcars on the grounds the previous decision had been unfair to them. He submitted the Blue Line had admitted signatories to the petition demanding buses did not live on the streetcar routes. Traffic carried from the streets on which the lines run would not be sufficient to maintain streetcars.

The commission, he said, had not put private interests ahead of those of the public. He held they had been right in refusing the Blue Line application because the B.C. Electric was already in the district and was ready to enlarge its service.

In opening his argument Monday afternoon Mr. Davey told the court the commission could go outside the evidence produced at the inquiry to obtain facts upon which it could base its decision.

The Zoning Board of Appeal will meet Thursday afternoon at 2. The meeting was originally scheduled for last Thursday, but was canceled because of the provincial election.

Truman Tells U.S. Britain, Canada Know All About A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Great Britain and Canada, as well as the United States, have the knowledge of manufacturing processes necessary to produce the atomic bomb, President Truman told his press conference today.

Regarding the coming meeting between the President and Prime Minister Attlee and Prime Minister King, Mr. Truman said Mr. Attlee can talk about anything he chooses (when he arrives in Washington), but he is coming to talk about atomic energy.

The President said that the next step, after a three-power agreement on international policy with respect to the bomb has been reached, will be discussion with other governments of Europe.

Denies MacInnis To Succeed Winch

Speculation of a shake-up in the provincial C.C.F. organization following a loss of representation in the B.C. Legislature in Thursday's provincial general election was denied by A. T. Alsbury, provincial president of the C.C.F., who said there was no truth in a report that Angus MacInnis, Vancouver M.P., might succeed Harold Winch, provincial leader and M.L.A.-elect for Vancouver.

C.C.F. representation in the provincial house today stands at 10, compared with 15 at dissolution last Aug. 31.

The C.C.F. in last week's election lost power to the Coalition which now has 35 members. In the 48-member house one seat is held by a Labor M.L.A. One seat is still in doubt.

Mr. Alsbury said: "A change in leadership has not been discussed in provincial or national C.C.F. orders."

He continued: "Mr. Winch's leadership has never been in question and the C.C.F. has repeatedly expressed confidence in him. Under his leadership the C.C.F. has advanced from the position of a third party to that of the only party offering an alternative to the combined Liberal-Conservative forces."

Labor Demands Similar to Those After 1914-18 War

OTTAWA (CP)—Current labor unrest in Canada is following a pattern somewhat similar to conditions after the First Great War, but so far work stoppages have not reached the proportions of 1919.

The 1919 strikes centred largely on wages, the main issue in the present threat of 12,000 packing-house workers to strike. The current work stoppage at the Ford Motor Co. plant at Windsor, Ont., involves primarily the relationship of the union and company.

There is, however, common to these two disputes determination by organized labor to retain gains made during the war period, and in some circles at least, there is a feeling these disputes may prove a show-down.

Members of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) stopped their machines at the Ford plant Sept. 12 as the climax of an 18-month argument with the company over the inclusion of a new agreement of clauses which could secure the position of the union.

MEAT TRADE POSITION

The packinghouse workers, members of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.) have threatened a walkout and forced the government to take control of almost the entire industry in an effort to obtain a 40-hour week without reduction in the pay they now take home for 48 hours. Buried beneath this demand is a desire for job security.

These issues—union security, job security and wages—are the things unions are most concerned about and the feeling of labor leaders that the current disputes may establish important precedents is understood to be shared by many employers.

The labor men say that what they are seeking is essential to a good future for Canadian workers. Employers opposing the union's demands feel the unions are trying to invade the employer's right to run his own business and wage demands are threatening the ability of Canadian industry to meet postwar competition.

Says Income Tax Sentence 'Savage'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved by Judge J. R. Archibald in county court Tuesday on appeals by Robert W. Murray, a juke box operator, against fines totaling $20,000 and a sentence of six months for falsifying his income tax returns for 1942 and 1943.

Murray pleaded guilty to the charges, and his counsel, Gordon S. Wismer, pleaded for the imposition of a nominal penalty.

Mr. Wismer said Murray was charged with defrauding the government. Magistrate H. S. Wood, who heard the case in police court, had imposed the maximum penalty, he said. Murray had no experience in bookkeeping, he stated, so left the matter in the hands of an experienced bookkeeper. He contended the sentence was a "savage one" for "only a technical breach of the law." Murray thought he was doing right, according to his counsel.

Pacific Show Boat Is Well Received By Capacity House

A fast-moving, amusing revue without a dull spot from overture to final curtain, Pacific Show Boat, presented by the Royal Navy, opened to a capacity audience Tuesday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The all-male company of the revue is a unit which will go to the Far East aboard the Royal Naval Ammunition Ship No. 1, S.S. Menestheus, to entertain the British Pacific Fleet. It consists entirely of artists drawn from general service in the Royal Navy.

The revue made its first appearance in London in June, 1945, and since then has toured Belgium, Germany and northern Ireland, entertaining more than 45,000 troops.

"Bogus Girls of the Fleet," a song and dance number with five burly sailors as the girls, started the audience laughing at the opening performance, and the laughter continued throughout Part I of the program with quiet prevailing only during a piano accompaniment by Colin Holding and Ronald Jenkins, and performance of Tschakowsky's Concerto Pastiche by Ronald Cook at the piano and the Theatre Orchestra of the Royal Naval School of Music, directed by Edward Talling, R.M.

P.O. Leslie Egglestone, holder of the North and All-England tap-dancing championships, received enthusiastic applause for his dancing in "Tappin' Around the Turret," a musical number which has become a hit wherever the show has been played. Austin Brett then added to the mirth by singing the song as he said he had heard a Cockney costermonger and his young niece sing it.

Clever imitations of Bing Crosby and George Formby were given by Brian Chapman, who served on Russian convoys and in the invasion of Europe. "Sick of the Sun," a comedy song composed by Lt. Cmdr. Ronnie Hill, director of the show, and sung by Johnnie Heaver, Rex Baines, Tommy Aitken and Wilfred Crumpleholme, brought many laughs, which grew even louder and more prolonged with presentation of "Misses Mess," a sketch portraying the messdeck of a new war ship manned entirely by Wrens.

Jock Robertson, in a brief kilt and string-mop sporran, kept the audience laughing until Part I of the program ended with a tribute to the Ship's Company.

The Seafarers' Concert Dance Orchestra, directed by Charles Hotham, and including a Swing Sextette led by clarinetist Tommy Jones, provided modern music after the interval, playing such popular songs as Gershwin's "The Man I Love," the English ballad "Trees," "Begin the Beguine," "Old Man River," sung by Wilfred Crumpleholme, and as a signature tune, "Indian Summer."

May Raise Newsprint Price By $5 Per Ton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Administration may raise the newsprint price ceiling, perhaps $5 a ton, to encourage additional production.

An official who said the subject was under study predicted a decision next month. Any increase granted would go into effect the first of the year, he added. The ceiling price now at 38 port cities is $61 per ton.

Race Track Picture Stars Alan Ladd

One of the hottest coming attractions, scheduled to open tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre is Paramount's "Salty O'Rourke," an Alan Ladd screen sockeroo which already has drawn high praise from high places in Hollywood. Alan co-stars with Gail Russell in the pounding story of a race track classic slated to raise audience blood pressure coming into the home stretch.

With Alan in the title role, it's a case of Ladd gunning again for the chance to go straight after finding he's been put on the spot by a gambling ring of ruthless killers. Alan gets help from a winsome, youthful school teacher, played by Gail, whose honest love keeps Ladd from straying off the beaten path. Those who've seen the picture declare Milton Holmes' story and screen play hits a peak in writing with Raoul Walsh's direction in for some bouquets, too.

CADET THEATRE

San Francisco's chamber of commerce owes Hollywood's film industry at least $10,000,000. Maybe a lot more, depending upon how valuable to a city is having its name on the screen in thousands of movie theatres throughout the world.

Universal's "Frisco Sal," produced and directed by George Waggner and starring Susanna Foster, Turhan Bey and Alan Curtis, now at the Cadet Theatre, is the ninth motion picture containing the northern city's name in its title, to be produced since 1927.

RIO THEATRE

Huntz Hall is one east side kid who believes you can mix business with pleasure. And he's a pretty good mixer. During the shooting of Monogram's "Come Out Fighting," showing at the Rio Theatre, he commuted between the studio and beach every day. He held up shooting one afternoon when his car broke down on his trip in from the beach, and Leo Gorcey had to race out to pick him up. Huntz was unconcerned about his lateness.

"My sunshine comes first," is what he said. Later it was discovered that by "sunshine" he meant his girl friend, who lives at the beach.

DOMINION THEATRE

Local moviegoers are in for the screen treat of the year when "Where Do We Go From Here?," the musical like nothing on earth with a story that's out of this world, is currently at the Dominion Theatre. The picture, starring Fred MacMurray, Joan Leslie and June Haver, and photographed in dazzling technicolor, is being acclaimed as the lyrical miracle of the year. A refreshingly daring innovation in screen entertainment, the 20th Century-Fox hit is as big, as new, and delightfully different as anything ever to come out of Hollywood.

CAPITOL THEATRE

When a man who can't hit the side of a barn deliberately poses as a badly-wanted outlaw, things are bound to happen.

Around this situation are woven the drama, comedy and romance of "Along Came Jones," International Pictures' new Gary Cooper-Loretta Young release, which is now at the Capitol Theatre. Cooper has the role of the impersonator, with Dan Duryea portraying the real bandit; Miss Young is a frontier girl and William Demarest, Cooper's pessimistic pal.

Men of Ontario Due in Month

The senior R.C.N. warship in the Pacific, the cruiser Ontario, has left Hongkong and is due to arrive in Victoria late in November. The cruiser had reached the Far Eastern theatre when the Japanese surrendered and since then her crewmen have been helping maintain order in Hongkong and Kowloon. Her warrant officers, shown in the above picture, are, left to right in the front row: E. H. Massick, commissioned electrician, Victoria; J. M. Paul, commissioned gunner, Halifax; J. Patterson, Vancouver, and Warrant Engr. W. G. Felliver, Moose Jaw.

The men pictured above have been keeping H.M.C.S. Ontario shipshape. They are, front row, left to right: J. McInnis, painter, Edinburgh; A. March, chief shipwright, Victoria; J. MacFie, commissioned shipwright, North Vancouver; L. F. Robson, shipwright, Toronto; middle row: G. Watson, shipwright, Victoria; A. Therrin, shipwright, Cornwall; A. P. Town headquarters for the Ontario in Hongkong boasted a reasonably efficient galley complete with a wood-burning stove. Above PO. Cook C. Christie of Victoria, and Cook T. F. LaBrash of Dana, Sask, go to work on dinner for the crewmen.

B.C. Marriage Rate Down

On the upswing since the 1933 Depression low, B.C. marriages fell off in 1943 to set a marriage rate of 10.4 per 1,000 population, compared with 13.1 in 1942, the 72nd annual vital statistics report of the Provincial Board of Health showed today.

As in other years, so in 1943, the last year for which statistics were available, June was the most popular month for weddings.

The most popular age for marrying for women is 21, according to the report. More men of 23 married in B.C., the report showed, than of any other age.

The oldest participants in a marriage ceremony, the report showed, were a man listed as "80 and over" and a woman, listed in the group of 70 to 74. Fourteen women over 70 married that year, while 15 men in the group of 75 to 79 and 44 in the group 70 to 74 entered wedlock.

During the year under review five marriage ceremonies were solemnized in which the women were under 16 years and the men under 18 years. That year 22 women under 16 and 103 of 16, were married, while 23 men under 18 and 69 of 18 were married.

The report showed some intermingling of races.

Of the 38 grooms born in China

33 took brides born in Canada, while the other five brides were born in Scotland and China.

'Blossom Time' Coming to Royal

"Blossom Time!" What a flood of memories that title brings forth. The famous Schubert-Romberg romance comes to the Royal Victoria for two days, Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10. Today a new generation is discovering "Blossom Time." They are in accord with their forebears in their approval, for seemingly the poignant story of the unrequited love that the great composer bore for the lovely Mitzi Franz, is as compelling today as it was when first disclosed to American theatre audiences.

Undoubtedly the great melodies still hold their fascination for those who like the better things in music. Where can one find more tuneful passages than in the "Serenade" and "The Lonely Heart," the later based on Schubert's "Ave Maria," and then the greatest of all "Blossom Time" hits, "The Song of Love," which has as its basis Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."
